Nicholas Koval, City Employee, Electrocuted

Worker Killed When He Grabs 1460-Volt Wire

Koval Was On Routine
Duty Stretching Line
As Mishap Occurred

Nicholas J. Koval, 34, of 963 W. Pershing st. was pronounced dead at 3:15 p.m. Thursday at City Hospital after he had been electrocuted while on routine duty stretching a line from Fire Chief Clarence Wright's home at 287 S. Union Ave. to the fire department.

Koval had climbed an Ohio Edison Co. pole and accidentally put his hand on a wire containing 1460 volts. He suffered burns of the right hand and inside upper left leg. The wire which he had grabbed broke and he fell 35 feet to the ground.

An ambulance rushed him to the hospital but he was pronounced dead on arrival. Columbiana County Coroner E. R. Sturges ruled accidental death.

Born in Youngstown Dec. 25, 1917, he is survived by his wife, Aloysia Strabala Koval; two small sons, Lawrence Lee and Eugene at home; a sister, Mrs. Wilbur Brant of Cleveland, and a brother, John of Buffalo, N. Y.

He had worked for the city since Feb. 7, 1948, having moved here from Leetonia five years ago. He was a member of St. Paul Catholic Church.

Funeral services will be held at 9:30 a. m. Monday at the church in charge of Rev. Fr. J. Richard Gaffney. Burial will be at Calvary Cemetery in Leetonia.

Friends may call at his home anytime after noon on Saturday.

Adenauer Wins Right To Sign Peace Treaty

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer triumphed over his Socialist opposition in the court today and won approval to go ahead next week with the signing of treaties to rearm West Germany and ally it with the West.

Earlier today Allied and German negotiators, after an all-night session, announced they could complete on Monday all but a few clauses of the proposed peace contract and that the Big Three foreign ministers would come here late next week to settle those points and sign the treaty with Adenauer.

Adenauer's legal victory came in the Federal Constitution Court at Karlsruhe, which rejected a Socialist petition that the chancellor be forbidden to sign the peace contract and its companion European army treaty to raise 400,000 German troops for Western defense.

The Socialists also demanded that, if permitted to sign, Adenauer's signature be considered provisional until the outcome of another suit the Socialists have pending. This action demands that the federal constitution be amended to permit rearmament, a process requiring a two-thirds parliamentary majority which Adenauer could not obtain.

Adenauer contends a bare parliamentary majority is required to ratify the treaties.

The court ruled the signing of the pacts would be legal, since they must be ratified by the federal parliament. That left it up to the Socialists to try defeating ratification.

Spokesmen for the Allies and Germans, meanwhile, announced after their 18-hour, all-night session they had reached agreement on 25 points in the contract. Leaving only five to finish in their final meeting Monday.

Harriman Leading Democratic Race For Convention Delegates

(By The Associated Press)
W. Averell Harriman moved back into the lead in the race for Democratic presidential-nominating delegate strength today, on the basis of a new survey in Pennsylvania.

Harriman, mutual security director, had been trailing Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee in the Associated Press nationwide tabulation of delegates.

A new survey of Pennsylvania delegates today showed 45 consider themselves uncommitted. This group includes 19 originally pledged to support the preferential primary winner, who turned out to be Kefauver.

The new alignment—16 more uncommitted than previously—gives Harriman 2½ votes and Kefauver seven votes, making their national rating read: Harriman 92, Kefauver 87½. Convention nomination requires 616 votes.

Kefauver, however, appeared a cinch to pick up all 12 of Oregon's Democratic delegation, being chosen today in a primary. The Tennessee is the only all-out entry in the party's preferential voting and these results are binding on the delegation.

Gen. Dwight Eisenhower ranked as a favorite in the Republican popularity poll, which Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio did not enter. Whether Eisenhower wins all 18 or just 10 of the Republican delegates depends upon the vote for eight unpledged candidates for the posts.

A pro-Kefauver move loomed at the Americans for Democratic Action convention opening in the nation's capital tonight. If the Tennesseeans, partisans for a floor fight to try to get ADA endorsement, a counter-move was expected on behalf of Harriman.

President Truman, at his press conference in Washington said he will make a whistle-stop campaign for the nominee's election, similar to the one he made for himself in 1948.

The President would not say whom he favors, but disclosed he may go to the national convention to speak after the presidential and vice presidential nominees are chosen.

Truman said he hopes to be a convention delegate and Missouri leaders promptly said they would be honored to have him head his home-state delegation.

Sen. Taft said he is delighted to hear that Truman is going to head the Democratic campaign no matter who is nominated. Taft, a caustic critic of the Truman administration, said Republicans will have an affirmative campaign.

Legislators Vote Big Tax Relief For Themselves

Bill Also Gives Free
Office Space; Economy
Demands Are Reversed

WASHINGTON (AP)—In a complete reversal of previous demands for belt-tightening economy, the House has voted substantial tax relief for itself and Senators and free home-town office space for congressmen.

The measure swept through the House yesterday as it passed the last of the annual domestic budget measures, a bill appropriating funds to operate Congress.

On all previous budget bills except one financing local river and harbor and flood control projects, the House had reduced allotments recommended by its Appropriations Committee. Demands for economy accompanied all the reductions.

Two amendments, for tax relief and free office rental, could run the added cost of the bill into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The tax amendment was offered by Democratic leader McCormack of Massachusetts and approved without a show of opposition or discussion. The bill's Democratic and Republican managers announced willingness to accept it and the other members went along.

It says that for purposes of federal taxation, members of Congress have their place of residence in the state or district they represent. This means that their expenses while on official business away from home are deductible as business expenses for tax purposes.

Since Congress normally stays in session almost the entire year, a member could deduct the cost of his housing, meals, transportation, business entertainment, laundry and many other things while in Washington.

For most members this could mean a tax reduction of around $2,000 annually. Those with higher than average living standards might pay no taxes at all.

Senators and Representatives are paid $12,500 a year, plus a $2,500 expense allowance which now is tax-free. Besides that they receive smaller allotments for stationery, postage, communications and travel.

The free office space amendment was adopted by a standing vote of 133 to 78. Eighteen members insisted on a roll-call vote, but that was far short of the number required by the rules.

The amendment says that if a House member can't find a free office space in government buildings back home, Uncle Sam must pay up to $900 annually for rental of private quarters for any member wanting it.

Nationwide Oil Strike Near Final Settlement

CITY TO LOSE LANDMARK.—Workmen have begun the task of dismantling the 100-year-old Colonial Hotel Building on downtown East State St. The 48-room hotel, one of the finest in its day, was built by Allen Farquhar. Two hundred and fifty persons attended the grand opening ball in the hotel Dec. 31, 1851. The hotel has been known as the Farquhar House, the American House and the Colonial Hotel. M'Arthur Warns Of Military State

U. S. Threatened By
"Conniving", He Says

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur, in an address closely scanned by politicians, warned last night against "political conniving" which he said threatened America with a "military state."

He told a special joint convention of the Michigan legislature last night:

"We now find some of the leaders of one party openly endorsing their own selection as the nominee of the opposition party. They encourage segments of their rank and file to infiltrate the opposition's ranks to influence the selection of its nominee for the presidency."

"This form of political conniving is destructive to the very essence of true representative government and sets the stage for the emergence upon the American scene of the ugly threat of a military state."

He made no specific reference to any political party of candidate. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is the only military man now a presidential candidate.

Gen. MacArthur paused for emphasis both before and after he spoke out against the "political conniving." An enthusiastic audience of legislators and guests, dominantly Republican, applauded these portions of his address most heavily.

The retired general warned the history of the world shows that republics and democracies have generally lost their liberties by way of passing from civilian to a quasi-military status.

"It would be a tragic development," he continued, "if this generation were forced to look to the rigidity of military discipline and discipline to redeem it from the tragic failure of a civilian administration."

"It might well destroy our historic and wise concept which holds to the supremacy of the civil power."

MacArthur lashed the national administration, which retired him as Supreme Far Eastern Commander.

"Our leaders," he said, "are unable to survey the world as a unit, but have become so infatuated with the one area of western Europe that they have largely ignored the Communist assault in many other sections of the globe."

"In one section of the world we oppose colonialism," MacArthur said; "in another, we support it; in one sector we bristle; in another, we appease. Our European pre-occupation is so great that we almost entirely ignore the enemy in other areas and even allow continental Asia to go by inertia and default. In Korea, where victory was in our grasp, we go from bad to worse."

Alliance Bank Official Charged With Embezzling $27,549

ALLIANCE (AP)—An Alliance bank official has been bound to the federal grand jury here on embezzlement charges involving a $27,549 shortage in his accounts.

Richard M. McCullough, 41, assistant cashier of the Mount Union Bank in Alliance for 13 years, was arrested by FBI agents yesterday.

U. S. Commissioner William Laub of Akron sent him to the grand jury. McCullough is charged with misapplying $1,500 of bank funds last May 6 and with making a $20,000 false entry three days ago. Conviction could bring a prison term of up to five years.

Paul J. Shine, FBI Cleveland chief, said bank examiners put the total shortages at $27,549.

Shine said McCullough told him he had taken bank funds and spent them toward a new home and on medical bills for his wife.

Shine said the shortages began late in 1950 and continued until the present. McCullough was believed to have taken vault cash as one means of getting the money, the FBI chief said.

The probe is still going on, it was added.

Examiners for Ohio and for the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland made the discoveries, it was reported. The federal bank was interested because the Alliance bank is a member of the Federal Reserve System, with federally insured deposits.

McCullough's wife reportedly has been suffering from a chronic arthritic condition.

The family lives in a new home there on South Rock Hill Extension, described as "an upper-middle-class section."

Officials Eye Gas Shortage, Hurry Bargaining

Knight, Leader Of Strikers, Says Work
To Resume Shortly

WASHINGTON (AP)—The simmering oil strike started to cool off today.

Government officials, eyeing what one of them called a "pretty critical" shortage of aviation gas, set up 15 bargaining sessions between union and oil company negotiators across the country.

O. A. Knight, leader of a coalition of unions which have been on strike for 16 days, said in an interview that "We have called off the strike" and most strikers should be back on the job soon.

Before that could happen, the 22 unions and 90,000 strikers involved would have to sign hundreds of local bargaining agreements with more than 70 oil companies.

Agreements Reported

Some tentative agreements, worked out on the basis of a wage stabilization formula, were being reported last night. Others were being awaited today.

Some of the agreements involved 1,400 workers at the Standard Oil of Indiana plant in Sugar Creek, Kan., and 400 workers at Globe Refining Company's Lemont, Ill., facility.

Settlement was reported near at the Continental Oil Plant in Denver, where 90 employees have been on strike, and negotiations were scheduled today at Sinclair and Phillips plants in Sugar Creek.

The WSB formula said local contract agreements could provide no more than a 15-cent-an-hour wage increase, except in possibly a few unusual circumstances.

But the unions have already announced they would accept the 15-cent ceiling, and companies employing a total of more than 20,000 workers had already offered that much before the WSB came up with its formula.

Thus, it seemed just a question of time before the several hundred local bargaining groups sign new work contracts and submit them to the WSB for approval under stabilization rules.

The strike's cutback of aviation fuel had federal officials jumpy. But Cyrus S. Ching, director of the Federal Conciliation Service, said he hoped the "crisis has been averted."

Firm Charged With Violation Of Ordinance

A complaint charging the owners of the Bar-Loy Manufacturing Co. on S. Lincoln Ave. with violation of a city planning ordinance has been filed with Mayor Harry M. Vincent by Grace James, a resident of S. Lincoln Ave.

City Engineer F. S. Barckoff is president of the Bar-Loy Co.

The complaint is similar to the one filed against Irwin D. Tice, operator of a trailer court at 1311 S. Lincoln Ave., across from Bar-Loy. Tice was found guilty of violating the ordinance by Mayor M. Vincent April 13, 1951.

The specific complaint charged him with failure to obtain the required signatures of the property owners within 250 feet of the lot on which he established his Lincoln Trailer court.

Tice's attorney asked for a new trial and then secured a restraining order from Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp which forbade further prosecution of the trailer court operator. Tice's counsel also contested the constitutionality of the city's planning ordinance.

Hearing on the issue was concluded April 17 and a final ruling by Judge Sharp is expected within the next several weeks.

Ferguson-Rhodes Battle To Produce Political Fireworks

COLUMBUS (AP)—A couple of free-wheeling campaigners will rattle each other's teeth in the November election battle for the state auditor's job.

So far Democratic State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson and his Republican opponent, Mayor James A. Rhodes of Columbus, have only been sparring. The slugging can start any day although election is nearly six months away. Both were unopposed for nomination in the primaries.

The presidential, senatorial and gubernatorial campaigns will hold the November spotlight. But for action keep your eyes on the auditor's slugfest.

Ferguson probably has the greater incentive in defending his title. At 60, he is gunning for a fifth four-year term after more than a quarter century in state service. For him, it's a bread and butter battle. Rhodes, the challenger, is 42 and has two more years to serve as mayor if he loses. But he's a hard puncher, likes to mix it and looks like a corner in the political heavy-weight division.

Both campaigners met defeat their last times out. Sen. Robert A. Taft flattened Ferguson under a 431,000-vote advantage two years ago to win re-election. Rhodes was runner-up in a four-man race for the gubernatorial nomination that year.

Ferguson, a good vote-getter, claims the largest plurality ever received by a Democrat candidate for state office in Ohio—292,000 votes. He expects to bounce off the floor from his 1950 defeat to win again.

Rhodes isn't in the scrap to lose. He carried the battle to Ferguson long before the primaries by demanding to see travel and expense vouchers of the state auditor and his relatives on the state payroll. Ferguson produced most of the vouchers in due time but he refused to let Rhodes photograph them in the auditor's office. He accused Rhodes of a political fishing expedition and said he had nothing to hide.

College Students Raid Girls' Dormitories For Underwear

NEW YORK (AP)—Male student Spring raids on co-ed dormitories spread to Columbia University here and the University of Miami early today.

At Columbia, police and special guards battled more than 1,000 students for two hours to stem invasion of several girls' dormitories of Barnard College on the University campus.

Some of the men got into two of the co-ed dwellings and made off with female underwear. Some coeds tossed brassieres and panties from their dormitory windows.

Other girls hurled bags of water at the male demonstrators.

Male student "pantie raids" have been staged recently at a number of other schools, including the Universities of Florida, Nebraska, Iowa, Purdue, Denver, and Otterbein College in Ohio.

At the University of Miami early today, about 3,000 men students raided the Dickinson dormitories on the main campus. Police and firemen used fire hoses to quell the demonstrators during the two-hour melee.

In Cambridge, Mass., last night some 1,000 Harvard students got into the riot act but not over lingerie. A peaceful rally—a campaign to put a comic strip character in the White House—erupted into a fight when a rival group presented another comic strip character for the presidency.

C. P. Taft Campaign Spent $32,131

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Charles P. Taft for Governor Committee yesterday reported it spent $32,131 in its campaign to nominate him as Republican candidate for governor in the May 6 primary.

Taft, brother of Ohio Sen. Robert Taft, defeated former Gov. Thomas A. Herbert of Cleveland and State Sen. Roscoe R. Walcott of Columbus for the nomination.

C. W. Broeman, treasurer of the Taft committee, listed contributions of $34,036. He reported a balance of $1,095 to meet unpaid bills totaling $17,110. Broeman said the unpaid debts include three loans totaling $10,500.

Taft loaned the committee $5,000 and listed personal contributions and expenses of $1,452. A sister, Lucia Chase Eging, also loaned $5,000 to the committee and contributed $2,000. Henry Berne of Cincinnati, chairman of Taft's finance committee, loaned an additional $500, and contributed $1,000.

Governor Lausche, unopposed for the renomination on the Democratic ticket, reported expenses of $167. He listed one contribution of $100.

Red Truce Team Again Raps Allies

U. N. Gives Final "No" To Proposal On POWs

MUNSAN, Korea (AP) — For the ninth straight day Red truce negotiators blasted the Allies and again virtually dared them to formally break off the armistice talks.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, senior Allied delegate, spoke for only two minutes of the 30-minute session. He used his time to "reject finally and formally" the Red prisoner exchange proposal and suggest a recess until the Reds have something new to offer.

At Panmunjom tomorrow at 11 a.m. jecting the Allied voluntary "Unless you formally declare the termination of these armistice negotiations, you have no reason to object to the normal holding of conferences."

Another session was scheduled at Panmunjom tomorrow at 11 a.m. Joy told the Reds "we again reject finally and formally" the Red proposal calling for exchange of 132,000 captured Reds for the 12,000 Allied captives in Communist hands.

Nam II was equally firm in rejecting the Allied voluntarily repatriation plan. It would return only 70,000 prisoners to the Reds. The rest of the Red prisoners questioned refuse to return to Communist territory, the U.N. command said.

Nam II said a letter written by Brig. Gen. Charles F. Colson, former commander of the Allies' Koje Island prison, "has disclosed to the whole world the utter bankruptcy of your position."

Colson wrote the note to obtain the release of Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd, who was seized by the POWs. The letter, since repudiated by the top Allied command, admitted Reds had killed prisoners (in Red riots) and promised "human treatment."

Joy said he told the Reds "They were cloaking their fears of the truth and dodging our rescreening program. I told them the remainder of their remarks were unworthy of notice."

The Allies have offered to let the Communists see for themselves just which men don't want to return to Communism.

Nam II calls this absurd. The Red general declared the "Geneva convention stipulates the so-called screening of war prisoners cannot be permitted. You attempt to tear the Geneva convention to pieces. We will not join you. Neither will any true impartial organization join you."

Joy told him "We are here to attempt to gain an armistice and not to engage in an exchange of propaganda and recrimination."

Congress Okay 2 Traffic Mishaps Leave 3 Injured

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only the President's signature is needed today to produce a long-promised pay increase for the uniformed services. The Senate and House both passed the compromise measure yesterday after months of dispute and delays.

The bill gives members of the armed forces a four per cent "cost of living" pay raise plus a 14% increase in food and quarters allowances.

The House passed the compromise bill by a thumping 333 to 0 vote after Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House armed services committee gave assurance that he hoped to take up later legislation providing combat pay for men in Korea.

It is retroactive to the first of the month in which it becomes law—May 1 if Mr. Truman signs it this month.

Senate approval of the measure, which will cost an estimated $484,000,000 a year, also came on an unanimous vote with only six senators on the floor.

One Ax To Grind

The Senate Banking Committee proposes an end to ax-grinding executive commissions. Its recommendation that the Wage Stabilization Board be composed exclusively of public members is a milestone.

This would do away with the absurd arrangement of a tripartite board composed of equal numbers of employers' spokesmen, union spokesmen and so-called public members. In the future, all members would be bona fide public members. They hold the power of decision anyway, because the other two groups invariably end in deadlocks on close decisions.

The banking committee goes one step further by recommending that WSB appointees after June 30 be subject to confirmation by the Senate. This would short-circuit the New Deal-Fair Deal line of packing appointive boards with partisans.

It remains to be seen how Congress will act on the banking committee's proposal. But in the United States there should be only one ax to grind by any agency acting in the name of the people—the welfare of all the people.

The shocking disclosure of the way the WSB was used to carry out a presidential commitment to one side of an industrial dispute may have written finis to the vicious practice of turning national policy decisions over to appointees whose minds are closed.

Havin' Any Fun?

A delightful letter to the Washington Post by David L. Cohn a few days ago voiced the wishful hope that Americans may continue to have fun as usual out of this year's election.

The writer, himself, obviously was having a fine time. He submitted a list of requirements for a perfect presidential candidate which would make even the candidates chuckle. His plea for preservation of the national sense of humor is as sound as the ideal candidate he described.

It is the best of all safeguards against loss of perspective, as anyone who has been "witticized" for seeing things out of focus can testify. The purpose is not to reduce everything to jesting, which in itself would be a loss of perspective, but to balance the heavy with the light—to spot those little and large absurdities which are inherent in public affairs and to enjoy them.

Enlarging on Mr. Cohn's proposition a little, it is possible that the United States is the only country which has a tradition of playing politics with humor and that this may have been its saving grace?

Any Damage Done?

When Harold E. Stassen went on record a few days ago with an admission that his only purpose in the pre-convention campaign this year was to hurt a fellow Republican, Sen. Taft of Ohio, some of the mist was blown away from a murky situation.

But one thing remains murky, as far as Republican voters were concerned. When Stassen told U.S. News & World Report that he moved into the Republican presidential primaries because he and "his friends" decided Sen. Taft might run away with the nomination, he did not tell who those friends are.

Whether or not Stassen did any damage to the Taft campaign is hard to determine; he apparently wasted his time. But in so doing he wasted a great deal of somebody's money, too—money made available to him in wholesale lots by the aforesaid "friends."

It would be helpful to know who they are and what they had at stake which seemed to justify Harold Stassen's costly and futile effort to hurt a prominent leader in the Republican party.

Voluntary Security

If you are paying old-age security taxes to the federal government, you will have no trouble spotting the joker in a proposal to let professional people and self-employed citizens save up for old age by tax exemptions on a fixed percentage of their net income.

Everybody would jump at a chance to get a tax exemption on his savings, which is what is being proposed for the professionals and self-employed. Many now paying taxes for old-age benefits would prefer to save their own money voluntarily, instead of paying taxes.

Moreover, since old-age benefits are not supposed to be any more than a minimum foundation for security and are intended to be padded out with income from voluntary savings, all social-security participants would like a tax exemption.

This is not to say that doctors, lawyers, preachers, farmers and other self-employed persons do not deserve tax exemption for money put away for old-age security. It only says that if they were to be given that inducement, everyone else would have an equal right to claim it.

The fun of running away from home doesn't really come to youngsters until they sneak back.

'Union Shop'

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Individual Rights Are Discussed

If it were not for the "union shop" issue the controversy in the steel industry would never have reached the critical stage it did. Many observers do not know that the words "union shop" are not at all related to the issue of whether a union can be organized in a shop. The phrase really means that the minority employees in a company are compelled against their will to join the union or lose their jobs.

The Supreme Court of the United States has never said the compulsory unionization is constitutional. Congress, in the Taft-Hartley Act, merely said that if labor and management got together and wanted to impose by contract such a condition, there would be no penalty of law against it as there is against the "closed shop". Under the latter, nobody who isn't already a member of the union can be hired by the employer in the first instance.

Under a so-called "union shop," the employee is given 30 days to join or not join and then may be fired from his job if he doesn't contribute out of his own pocket payments for union dues. It is the merest sophistry to argue, as some trade-union partisans do, that the minority who are compelled only to pay dues to the union are not having their rights transgressed because they are not in fact actual members of the union.

THE THEORY that a man must be compelled to pay tribute to any organization—whether religious, fraternal or professional—unless he himself voluntarily joins it is obnoxious and runs contrary to the Bill of Rights in the Constitution.

Many years ago the Supreme Court of the United States ruled that an employer who refused to hire a worker because he was a member of a union violated the Constitution. It is, therefore, logical that the court would rule that the imposition of either union membership or non-membership as a condition of employment in free America is a denial of constitutional rights.

Sometimes the advocates of compulsory unionization defend it on materialistic grounds—that the minority should help pay the expenses of the majority, especially since, under the Wagner law and later the Taft-Hartley Act, the representatives of the majority do the bargaining and hence perform duties that are beneficial to the minority. It is even suggested that there is an analogy to tax-paying.

This type of fallacy is widespread and illustrates how far trade unionists have gone in setting up the doctrine of a super-government by labor unions which may tax at will and grant or withhold jobs at will.

THE ANSWER, of course, is that if such power to tax is given private organizations, then it would be logical for railroads to collect fares from persons who do not ride their trains but have railroad service conveniently maintained at the expense of those who do ride.

The device of requiring a worker to pay dues to a union he doesn't want to join is a revelation of a basic weakness on the part of the labor unions. They argue for it on the ground that it is fair to impose such a condition as a means of supporting the finances of the union, but they never quite explain why they cannot persuade the minority to join on the merits of trade unionism.

It is often claimed, moreover, that, because some employers have granted the principle of compulsory unionization in their collective-bargaining contracts, this makes it desirable for other employers to do likewise.

Usually the concession has been granted under the duress of a strike or threatened strike. It has rarely been given to the unions without a struggle. But, worst of all, even if the private parties do contract for something that has never been finally tested in the Supreme Court, it is an offense against individual rights for the government itself to impose compulsory unionization, as the so-called "public" members of the Wage Stabilization Board did the other day.

It is precisely such abuses of power that divide the country and bring on crises which paralyze production and break the spirit of harmony that can and should prevail in a national emergency.

Health To You

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

The Doctor Answers

In medicine as in other affairs of life, it is often hard to tell whether a particular event did or did not cause something which came afterwards.

Q—My 12-year-old son had a serious burn on the top of his head and face when he was 18 months old. Could this have affected his mind? He seems to know enough outside of books, but doesn't seem to learn anything at school. I'd hate to have him grow up and not know what other children his age know.

A—Since this boy was apparently burned only on the outside of his head, it seems unlikely that the burn had anything to do with his present progress in school. The boy should be tested by the school, and his parents informed as to whether he has the mental capacity to do his school work. If he does, perhaps he merely lacks the interest; if he does not, perhaps the school authorities could advise some special school for him.

Q—I have the condition known as alopecia areata, but have never had a complete cure. Is there any home treatment which would be suitable?

A—Alopecia areata, sometimes called baldness in spots, is a curious condition, the cause of which is not known. There is, as yet, no sure cure for it, though the majority appear to recover eventually with or without treatment.

Q—What is the effect of bad tonsils in an adult? Is there any danger of cancer of the throat if they are not removed?

A—Bad tonsils in a grownup can be responsible for chronic sore throat or recurring attacks of tonsillitis. It is believed, also, that the tonsils can cause ill effects, in some cases, on the body as a whole. If they are truly diseased, it is best to have them removed, but there is not much risk that they will produce cancer of the throat.

Q—I have had a hysterectomy, and both ovaries removed at two operations. My age is 35, and I wonder what the state of my health should be from now on. Will I ever be able to do all my own housework and gardening without fear of injuring myself?

A—If your health is otherwise good, there seems to be no reason why your health should not be better from now on than it was immediately prior to your operations. When you have recovered from the effects of the operation itself, you should be able to do housework and gardening as vigorously as your physical condition and your age would otherwise permit.

Q—I have been operated on twice in the last two years for hemorrhoids and now seem to have them back and a stricture besides. Would you advise the electric needle treatment?

A—Bad luck. Another and more extensive operation will have to be considered.

One Man's Opinion

That Kojic camp situation is apt to go to the War Labor Board . . . the Pentagon is hedging on collective bargaining.

But democracy really is catching on everywhere . . . those prisoners of war who demand collective bargaining probably represent our best triumph in Korea to date.

So far our fellows haven't thought of demanding time and a half for stalled truce negotiations but the enemy prisoners have named their shop steward and started picketing the jailer.

The closed shop provision and the checkoff probably will be sustained but not the guaranteed annual police action.

A change in administration might shift the whole country over to temporary employment in temporary peacetime jobs.

I don't know that we could stand peace . . . Anything new, like a non-emergency, takes time to get accustomed to.

What Price Wage Increase?

Dangerous Militarism

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

General Douglas MacArthur's Lansing, Michigan, speech struck a new note. While he did not mention General Eisenhower by name, he did say this:

"It is now even proposed that our two-party political system be abandoned for all practical purposes and that both parties unite under the leadership of the same individual. Could there be a more shocking proposal!"

As only one candidate has been suggested as such a possibility, this could only apply to General Eisenhower and, to all intents and purposes, MacArthur might just as well have mentioned his name. It has been reported that Eisenhower did once say to MacArthur in Tokyo that he, Eisenhower, expected both parties to nominate him. President Truman has indicated his friendship toward the Eisenhower candidacy despite the General's assertion of Republican affiliation. To many, the personal popularity of General Eisenhower transcends political differences.

EVEN MORE DRASTIC is this part of General MacArthur's attack:

"... we would be entirely dependent upon the paternalistic will of one man, and liberty as we have known it would disappear. The people would no longer be the master of their government, but its servant."

It was not expected that General MacArthur would attack the military, or the military mind, or a cabal of military individuals. Yet, in this speech, he did precisely that in language so clear and carefully chosen that its intent and purpose could not be doubted. The attack on military arbitrariness might well be a response to General Eisenhower's astonishing statement:

"If the people want me for president, they will know where to find me."

No politician would have dared suggest that the country come looking for him. A military man might say just that because of the adulation which he has known all his life and because of his specialized training. General MacArthur, the senior soldier in our service, 53 years in the army uniform, son of a father who had devoted his life to the army, knows the strength and weakness of military men. It is from such experience that he said, perhaps with trepidation:

"THIS FORM OF political con- vining is destructive to the very essence of true representative government and sets the stage for the emergence upon the American scene of the ugly threat of a military state."

"The gravity of this danger cannot be overemphasized. The history of the world shows that republics and democracies have generally lost their liberties by way of passing from civilization to a quasi-military status. Nothing is more conducive to arbitrary rule than the military junta. It would be a tragic development indeed if this generation was forced to look to the rigidity of military dominance and discipline to redeem it from the tragic failure of a civilian administration. It might well destroy our historic and wise concept which holds to the supremacy of the civil power."

The "military state" is the condition that destroyed the Roman Empire, that reduced the Ottoman Turks, and that vitiated the con- dition that produced countless revolutions in Central and South American countries and China. It gave to Spain its particular form since the monarchy fell.

Contrasting to it is the civilian state achieved by such countries as the United States and Great Britain where the military have been held in check. General MacArthur may even be thinking of the secrecy and cover-up that is so characteristic of our present administration in which so many military men, led by General George Marshall, have played such an important part.

ALTHOUGH this speech of General MacArthur will be accepted as political in the sense that he warns the nation against Eisenhower, it is much more than that. It is a warning against militarism, against control of the economy of the nation by the Pentagon. For his greatest emphasis is on this:

"Indeed, it is part of the general pattern of misguided policy that our country is now geared to an arms economy which was bred in an artificially induced psychosis of war hysteria and nurtured upon the incessant propaganda of fear. While such an economy may produce a sense of seeming prosperity for the moment, it rests on an illusionary foundation of complete unreliability and renders among our political leaders almost a greater fear of peace than is their fear of war."

'My Friends'

By TRUMAN TWILL

A television school for presidential and senatorial hopefuls has been set up by CBS-TV. Later, it will be expanded to take in all members of Congress who want to learn about this new medium for making friends and critics.

While viewers are not going to be represented on the school's faculty, some of us have firm opinions about what should be in the curriculum. Those of us who are working in newspaper shops have an especially firm opinion that political aspirants and officeholders should quit saying things that have to be unsaid the next day. First radio and now television discourage what formerly was the dirty practice of claiming misquotation by newspapers. From now on, except for straight-out press interviews and unrecorded speeches, the speakers either will have said it or they won't have said it. There will be no more quibbling.

The aim of the TV schooling should be to teach mush-mouths, face-twisters, arm-wavers and pool-hall orators how to keep themselves from alienating the audience. It should take up where the public speaking instructors who have been struggling with the bad habits of American talkers left off—which was too soon.

There is not more than one speaker in a hundred in this country who can perform for a quarter of an hour without rubbing his listeners raw with errors and mannerisms so offensively conspicuous they betray the speaker's contempt of his listeners and of the very art of speaking.

Some of the best addresses being made, many of them ghost-written, are turned over to the callous mercies of speakers who know no more about the art than a goose knows about sin. That is the kind of thing which will be even more disastrous in the age of TV than it has been before—and it has done irreparable damage to the prestige of many an

Raids

By HAL BOYLE

In Quest Of Coed Unmentionables

NEW YORK
The nation-wide rash of raids by college boys on coed dormitories strikes a cheerful zany note in a mad and angry world.

Others may cavil at these antics, but they restore my faith in youth and higher education. They show that the young of our land still have the quality of mild rebellion under the influence of spring and a full moon.

Most of these mass raids have been in quest of coed bras and panties, and some of the blueosed gentry will surely see this as a new sign of moral decadence and ask suspiciously:

"What do the boys want with those things, anyway?"

The answer to this is simple and practical. Soaked in cold water and tied around a throbbing head, these garments will help many a fellow bone up for his final exams. They beat a towel all hollow.

There is historical precedent for this. In the days of chivalry the knights always rode off to battle carrying a token—usually a glove—from his lady fair. The trouble with a glove is that you can't tie it around your head. If you don't believe it, try tying your wife's glove around your head the next time you go into battle—trying to figure out your income tax.

THIS EPIDEMIC of group student raids is naturally worrisome to deans of men and local police. And, of course, it would be bad if they really got out of hand.

But sometimes college boys have to erupt and show they are something more than tame receptacles to be stuffed with stale knowledge. Just because they are working for sheepskins is no sign they enjoy the life of sheep. And a little larking now and then helps teach those in academic authority to respect the fact that these young "hopes of tomorrow" have the quality of rebellion as well as submission.

THESE NOCTURNAL forays into sororities prove that. They are in essence nothing but a mild revolt against the boredom of the commonplace which weighs upon us all.

It might help care-ridden adults if they had some such harmless outlets of resentment against routine as are available on the campus. We tend to take ourselves and our troubles so seriously that our minds get knotted.

Naturally, I am not suggesting that men who work in an office or factory band together and raid the nearest Y.W.C.A. for bras and panties. Even if the girls at the Y.W.C.A. took such a prank in good spirit, the wives wouldn't. They would demand that the governor call out the National Guard.

Ah, no, such escapades are for the young and unfettered.

BUT IT MIGHT lighten up the international tension if world leaders and diplomats would quit making faces back and forth and join in a bit of innocent skylarking. Wouldn't it be a pleasant change if the truce negotiators in Korea would indulge in a marathon rockin' chair match for a change instead of their present marathon name-calling?

And how much would you pay to see Harry Truman and Dean Acheson meet Joe Stalin and Andrei Vishinsky in a goldfish swallowing contest to a finish in Yankee Stadium?

Hunting 'Rabbits' by 'Copter

"Rabbit hunting" in Korea isn't what the name implies. It's Marine Corps slang for hunting North Korean guerrillas who have infiltrated the South Korean lines.

Two low-flying helicopters are used. Doors are removed and expert riflemen pick off the "rabbits" as they are detected. When one 'copter lands to capture a Commie, the other provides cover.

This on only one of the new tricks in helicopter warfare. Marine helicopters now evacuate seriously wounded men direct from battlefield to hospital ships, landing on a specially built platform over the after deck.

Bonnie Jean Ruble Is Wed To Roy Ernest Samuelson

In the impressive solemnity of the traditional wedding ceremony, Miss Bonnie Jean Ruble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl N. Ruble of Winona, was united in marriage with Roy Ernest Samuelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Samuelson of 84 Clarence St., Torrington, Conn.

Friends and relatives gathered at the Winona Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, May 10, to hear the young couple exchange vows at a candlelit altar. Palms, snapdragons and rhododendrons completed the altar arrangement.

Rev. Sherman Brantingham and Rev. Thomas Hammett officiated at the double ring ceremony. Organist Mrs. Donald Dusenberry played the traditional wedding selections. Paul Rober sang "The Lord's Prayer."

"Her Mother and I" was Mr. Ruble's reply when asked who was giving this girl in marriage. The bride's gown was of candlelight color slipper satin featuring chantilly lace inserts in the skirt. Her pearl Juliet cap of marquisette held in place the shoulder length veil.

Miss Ruble carried her Nurses Testament with her basket arrangement of white roses, baby breath and Star of Jerusalem.

In attendance as maid of honor was Miss Cary Novale of Akron, a classmate from Akron School of Nursing. Bridesmaids were Miss Mary Ann Dodson of Akron, also a classmate of Miss Ruble's, and Miss Marjorie Hanna of RD, Lisbon.

Their gowns were of iridescent rose taffeta and they wore white gloves. Halos were fashioned in sweet peas, daisies and argemone. Their basket arrangements were of matching flowers.

Serving Mr. Samuelson as best man was his brother, Henry Samuelson, and another brother, Fred, and Gail Ruble, brother of the bride, were ushers.

Mrs. Ruble chose a frock of Alice blue for her daughter's wedding. Complementing it were white accessories and a pink gladiol corsage. Mrs. Samuelson wore navy blue with white accessories and a pink gladiol corsage.

At the reception there were 125 guests greeting the newlyweds. Mrs. Lowell Ewing, Miss Esther Brantingham, Mrs. Howard Bailey and Miss Josephine Dunn served at the refreshment table. Helpers in the kitchen were Mrs. Richard Stamp, Mrs. Norman Sturgeon and Mrs. Carl Creighton.

Guests attended from Alliance, Hanoverton, Milerva, Warren, East Liverpool, Cleveland, Canton, Cuyahoga Falls, Kent, Salem, Columbus, Akron and from West Virginia and Connecticut.

For her going away outfit the new Mrs. Samuelson chose an oatmeal-color suit with brown and white accessories.

Salem School Graduate
Mrs. Samuelson graduated from Salem High School and the City of Akron School of Nursing. She had been employed as an assistant supervisor at the Akron City Hospital.

Friends Told Christianity Put Women In Exalted Place

"Christianity has given women an exalted place. In China it unwrapped her foot; in Africa it clothed her naked body; in India it qualified her for marriage and in America it made her equal with man."

Thus spoke Rev. Lydia Brantingham of RD 2, Salem, to the women of the First Friends Church Thursday evening in the primary assembly room of the church.

This was a Mother's Day observance, sponsored by the Ruth Circle, missionary unit.

Using for her topic, "Motherhood," Rev. Brantingham based her message on the Bible verse, "Now there stood by the cross of Jesus his mother." She stressed the influence of a Godly mother and pointed out that a mother's task is stupendous. "A mother's wages are not in dollars and cents, but in the love and appreciation which she receives from her children," she avers.

The speaker is of the opinion that there would be fewer crimes and less trouble if boys and girls had more work to do. "We should teach our children the value of courtesy, especially in the home," she said.

For a satisfactory family life, pray, plan and play with her children.

Mrs. Naomi Groner announced the program enjoyed by approximately 70 women. Other numbers included:

Bible reading, Mrs. L. L. McCluggage; humorous reading, Mrs. Harold Tolson; vocal duets, Mrs. Edgar Derr and Mrs. L. E. Allen, with Mrs. Derr playing the harp accompaniment; recitation, Billy Tolson; vocal selections by a trio composed of Miss Virginia Krauss, Mrs. Milford Landwert and Miss Betty McMannis.

Spring flowers of varied hues were combined in the attractive buffet table setting. Assisting Mrs. Groner, committee chairman, were Mrs. Walter Shallenberg, Mrs. McCluggage, Mrs. Frank Coulson, Mrs. Homer Ellyson and Mrs. Charles Huppely. Mrs. John Everett and Mrs. Marie Rich.

Impeachment Of Truman Talk Brings Reminder Of Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Eighty-four years ago today Chief Justice Salmon P. Chase, who was presiding, rose in the Senate, grasped the sides of the desk before him, and said to a full, hushed chamber: "Call the roll."

"Mr. Anthony," the clerk called. And thus began one of the most dramatic decisions in U.S. history.

Henry Bowen Anthony, Senator from Rhode Island, stood up.

"Mr. Senator Anthony, how say you?" asked the chief justice. "Is the respondent, Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, guilty or not guilty of a high misdemeanor as charged in this article?"

Anthony didn't hesitate. "Guilty," he said.

Carefully the jury (that is, the Senate) was polled.

One vote had special interest. Sen. James W. Grimes of Iowa had suffered a stroke of paralysis only three days earlier. Yet he was so determined to be present on this fateful day that he had friends help him into the Senate. They helped him struggle to his feet as his name was called.

"Not guilty," Sen. Grimes said.

The word "guilty" rang out more often than "not guilty." But, in order to kick Andrew Johnson out of his high office, the margin had to be 2 to 1.

Vote Close

The vote was amazingly close. By one vote—35 for removal, 19 for acquittal—Johnson stayed on as the 17th President of the U. S.

The story of Johnson—only President ever to stand trial in an impeachment case—comes up today because again there has been impeachment talk.

Rep. Shafer (R-Mich) and Rep. Hale (R-Me) have introduced bills seeking to impeach Truman. But almost every President has heard similar talk. And even Sen. Mundt (R-SD), a stern critic of Truman, has said he doesn't expect anything to come of these.

Yet the parallels between Truman and Johnson are surprising. Each had little formal education. Johnson had been a tailor, Truman a haberdasher. Each was a senator before his election as vice president. Each moved up after the sudden death of a wartime President, Johnson after the assassination of Lincoln, Truman after the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

But the comparisons must not be pushed too far.

Truman went on to win the presidency in his own right. He has had his troubles with Congress, but they have been nothing compared with Johnson's.

Johnson Egotistical

Johnson has been described by Prof. R. G. McGrane of the University of Cincinnati as "egotistical, tactless, self-confident, fond of making extravagant speeches."

He campaigned in the off-year elections, trying to get congressmen of his belief elected—and lost decisively. Congress now was openly hostile, particularly in its views on how the South should be reconstructed.

The law that caused the most commotion was the tenure of office act of 1867.

Under this, Johnson couldn't even dismiss one of his cabinet members.

Johnson said this was unconstitutional, and soon fired his secretary of war, Edwin M. Stanton, with whom he had long been in disagreement.

This formed a base for some of the 11 articles in the impeachment charges.

Under the Constitution, the House draws up the charges and presents the case. The Senate, in such cases presided over by the chief justice of the Supreme Court, sits in judgment.

The trial, long, stormy and highly political, lasted from Feb. 25 until May 26, 1868, when the last charges against Johnson were dropped.

The oldest house in Ohio, the Rufus Putnam house, Marietta, is enclosed within the Campus Martius Museum, wing of which was constructed around it.

Military Stand On Marine Corps Rapped

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Vinson (D-Ga) declared today that the Army, Navy and Air Force oppose increasing the strength of the Marine Corps because they fear it would cause a reduction in their own appropriations.

Vinson, chairman of the Armed Services Committee, led off House debate on legislation which would not only establish a minimum number of Marines but make their commandant a member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

As the bill passed the Senate, and was approved by the House Armed Services group, the Marines would be maintained at not less than four combat divisions and four combat-strength Marine air wings. The house committee stipulated that a personnel minimum of 300,000 be established to keep the units up to strength.

Vinson said Pentagon brass in general strongly opposes the legislation. But he said he thought it time the lawmakers made it clear that Congress has not "abdicated its constitutional obligation to determine the size and composition of our armed forces."

Virgil Trucks Twirls No-Hitter

Wertz' Homer Winning Marker

Circuit Blow Comes In 9th Inning, Two Out

(By The Associated Press) Virgil Trucks' fine no-hitter and the covey of Major League shut-outs raise some old questions. Are the pitchers that good? Or the hitters that weak?

The correct answer probably is somewhere between the two extremes. Certainly, there is no doubt that Trucks' brilliant no-hit, no-run game for Detroit against Washington yesterday was a superb effort. He walked only one and struck out seven.

But the batters in both leagues did little. They performed like trained seals leaping for a flounder. The combined batting average of both leagues for the day was a sick .167. But for the Philadelphia A's 10-hit burst against the St. Louis Browns, it would have been much worse.

It was shutout day in the Majors, with four of the five games in that category. The Phils' Robin Roberts was the only winner allowing a run. And he gave up only one while throwing a five-hitter.

Trucks, Ray Scarborough of Boston, Alex Kellner of the A's and Billy Loes, Brooklyn's bonus baby, all blanked the enemy.

IF MANAGER RED ROLFE had written the script, the Tigers couldn't have arranged for a more dramatic finish for Trucks' no-hitter. Tangled with Bob Porterfield in a scoreless struggle, Detroit went down to the last out before winning the game, 1-0.

With two gone in the last of the ninth, Vic Wertz blasted a home run into the upper right field stands. Rightfielder Jackie Jensen didn't even bother to run back. He just trotted off the field.

Porterfield matched Trucks in the early going, pitching no-hit ball for 5 2/3 innings. He gave up only four hits in all.

The no-hitter, second ever pitched by a Tiger hurler, was especially welcome to Trucks as his first win of the season. The 33-year-old right-hander had a 0-2 record and had been roughed for 13 hits in 8 1/3 innings in his last previous start against Chicago.

SCARBOROUGH, a 32-year-old star, blanked the Chicago White Sox, 1-0, as Rookie Ted Lepcio's pay-off single won for Boston in the fourth. Faye Thorneberry, another survivor of Manager Lou Boudreau's spring youth movement, set up the run when he walked, stole second and went to third on Catcher Phil Masi's wild peg. Lepcio drove him home with one of the three Red Sox hits off loser Ken Holcombe, still a non-winner.

Lefty Kellner shut out the Browns for the second time in eight days with four hits in Philadelphia's 6-0 victory. Kellner had three of the 10 hits off Tommy Byrne, driving in two runs and scoring a third.

THE ST. LOUIS and Chicago defeats enabled the idle New York Yankees to take over fourth place. The Yanks' final game at Cleveland was postponed because of cold weather.

Loes took full advantage of his first starting chance for Brooklyn to whip Pittsburgh's feeble Pirates, 2-0. The 22-year-old kid, who got a $22,000 bonus for signing in 1948 with Brooklyn out of a high school in neighboring Queens, had won three in a row on relief before Manager Chuck Dressen gave him his big chance.

Brooklyn got to Murry Dickson for their two runs in the first on singles by Pee Wee Reese, Jackie Robinson and Roy Campanella, a walk and Duke Snider's run-scoring fly.

Roberts would have made it unanimous for the shutout pitchers if he hadn't dished up a home run ball to Joe Adcock of Cincinnati in the sixth inning. The 5-1 decision was Roberts' sixth straight for the Phils.

Many Players Hit Ball Well, But Don't Score Same Way

(Second of a Series) By JACKIE BURKE

Golf is basically a simple game. The trick is following instructions.

Few do this because at the outset they are a bit hard to carry out.

The trouble in most cases is that the beginner usually feels the game is vastly more complicated than it actually is because he is doing the easy things wrong.

This only makes things more complicated. Jackie Burke fusing for the player, the professional and everybody concerned.

The mechanics of every shot are the same.

The biggest difference in good golfers is in their thinking.

They all have the mechanics down pat.

Some have a little more power than others, although size means very little. Ben Hogan hardly is a giant, yet never has felt that he was shortchanged physically.

The margin between a champion and just another contestant is that the titleholder makes up for what to him is a bad round with a good one, a score low enough to keep him in the competition.

WALTER HAGEN, they tell me, took a bad shot as a matter of course. Before starting a round, The Hag figured he would make so many poor shots, and when this great player slipped his philosophy was such that he had just one less error to make.

One of Hogan's secrets is that he never wastes a stroke, regardless of the circumstances.

The average player, on the other hand, is so upset by straying out-of-bounds or dubbing a shot that he sloughs off several more strokes.

Ordinarily the winner of a tournament will have three good rounds and what for him is a bad one. Sometimes two low rounds win.

Wynn Scheduled Against Senators

Game Postponement Proved Big Mistake

CLEVELAND (AP)—How come the Indians-Yankees game you should be reading about today wasn't played?

A short answer would be that the Tribe's management made a bum guess on the weather.

The rubber game in the three game series with the world champs was called at 11 a.m. because the skies were overcast and the field still wet. But by game time three hours later, the temperature was up, the weather was sunny and the field was dry.

The game will be played as part of a doubleheader later in the season—probably July 22 or 23. A few hundred fans who turned out at the park didn't like the idea at all, but the biggest beefs came from the television fans.

HANK GREENBERG, Cleveland's general manager, regretted the faulty guess on the weather, but said he wanted to do what he "thought best" and give "the out-of-town fans a break by calling the game early."

The cancellation was somewhat surprising for thousands of Northeastern Ohioans who have watched Cleveland's diamond heroes play ball in the rain and mud or have waited in the stands for more than an hour while the grounds crew rolled and unrolled the infield tarpaulin.

Threatening skies certainly would have kept many out-of-town fans away yesterday, and that certainly was a factor in the decision. Although the Indians continue to top Major League attendance, the crowds haven't been what a front-running club should attract—especially when engaging the world champion Yankees.

SO TONIGHT'S GAME with the Washington Nationals starts the second half of what now is a 12-game Cleveland home stand. The Nats, in second place, end their series here tomorrow afternoon. Thus, they have no chance of pushing into first place in play at the stadium, for they trail by two and a half games.

The three injured Injuns—Centerfielder Larry Doby, Catcher Jim Hegan and First Baseman Luke Easter—all should be ready for tonight's game. Chance of their injury on a slippery diamond also influenced Greenberg in calling off yesterday's game, he said.

Early Wynn tries again tonight to be the first Tribe hurler to win five. He's lost two, and hasn't hurled against his former club, the Senators, this season. Washington holds a 2-1 edge on the Tribe—both victories by one-run margins.

Frank Shea (2-2) veteran right-hander the Nats got from New York's Yanks earlier this month, is slated to hurl for the visitors.

John Zines Pitches One-Hitter As Amvets, Butler, Bliss Triumph

Pitcher John Zines of the Salem Amvets chucked one-hit ball last night as he twirled the Vets to a 12-1 victory over Gil Chucks in Class AA softball competition at Joe Kelley Park.

Dick Ellis spoiled Zines' bid for a no-hitter in the third frame as he banged out a single for the losers.

Meanwhile, the Amvets put together seven hits with a pair of walks and scored nine tallies in the third inning. The rally was featured with Dempsey Baisley's home run. Another homer was rapped by Kirby Laughlin as he battled for Manager Ralph Mancuso in the fourth frame.

Bliss and Demings tangled in the initial game of the evening, Bliss winning 7-3 as Del Court and Harry Ehrhart led the hitting attack with a pair of singles apiece.

Demings scored three runs in the first three innings, one in the first and a pair in the third. Bliss, however, tied the game up in the fourth with a three-run outburst and iced the tilt in the sixth frame with four markers.

Wayne Hahn led the Pumpers with a triple in the third inning and a double in the fifth.

The third game of the evening saw Butler Grange tally its first victory of the season as they tallied a 10-3 win over Mullins. Leading, 5-3, going into the final inning, the Grangers rallied for five runs and won easily.

Lloyd Hardgrove banged out a home run in the third frame after Joe Vogelhuber had walked. Glen Mercer allowed the Mullins team just three hits, all of them singles.

The Salem Golf Club tournament schedule for the 1952 season was completed today and activities were speeding up considerably in preparation for the fourth-month season, Pro Les Johnston announces.

Qualifying scores for the Joe Kelley Memorial Trophy will begin next weekend as the club opens to its near 200 members. The first of three Flag Tournaments will be held Memorial Day when the club inaugurates the tournament season.

President A. A. Parker related the greens are in fine shape and much play is anticipated in the next few weeks with the warmer weather slated to make an appearance. The fairways are also improved over last year and have already been cut several times, according to Parker.

'Cleveland Browns To Be Rebuilt'---Brown

Grid Coach Losing Veterans; Ratterman To Aid Graham; Changes Slated For '52 Season

CLEVELAND (AP)—Paul Brown, still smarting from that licking the Los Angeles Rams gave his Cleveland Browns in the pro football championship game, is rebuilding his club.

There have been a number of trades and changes already and "there are more to come," the coach said today. He predicted fully half the 33-man Cleveland squad will be new next season.

"Our team just got fat and sleek from winning," he declared. "What I want is the player with the flat belly and the old desire to win. "You stick with a winner until he loses and that's what we did. But after that you make changes," Brown said.

THE BROWNS WON championships every year from the time they were founded in 1946 until last season. They won the National League's American Division crown in 1951, but dropped the league championship at Los Angeles, 24-17.

Brown, who goes after victories with the intensity of a birdog, has been plotting ever since. He says he does not know yet whether he will have a winner next time, but he is sure the team will be different. And the Browns will be playing for the bunting, all the way.

"There is nothing as dangerous to a football club as the player who wants to play 'just one more season,'" he continued. "I'm not afraid of trading away a man who may play well against us, but I am afraid of keeping a man after he's over the hill. That harms your team."

A number of the players have gotten themselves "pretty well fixed in other businesses and we're glad for them," the coach pointed out.

GONE ALREADY ARE such veterans as Tony Adamle, who plans to study medicine; Alex Agase, to coach with the Dallas Texans; Bob Gaudio, to business; Chubby Grigg, to the Green Bay Packers; Lou Rymkus, to coach at Indiana; and backs Bob Shula and Carl Taseff, into military service.

As things stand now, Brown has three new men on his No. 1 defensive platoon and at least three new faces on offense.

He also has for the first time a top flight substitute passer for quarterback Otto Graham, in George Ratterman, whom he acquired on a trade from Dallas.

Ratterman played most of last season in the Canadian League and has a reputation as a cut-up. But Brown, who fired a pretty good passer last season for failing to memorize his homework, does not think he will have any trouble.

"GRAHAM IS STILL my No. 1 passer," says Brown, "but he's getting old enough now that he occasionally has a bad day—that's one reason we needed Ratterman. The other reason was that there are a couple of teams in the league—such as the New York Giants—who could beat us if they had Ratterman."

New men now on defense are Bob Gain, Bert Rechichar and Walt Michaels. Gain is at right tackle for John Sandusky, who moved to the offensive team, replacing Rymkus. Rechichar, from Tennessee, was the Browns' first draft choice and figures to play quarterback instead of Cliff Lewis. Michaels, traded to the Browns in the deal that sent Grigg to Green Bay, is at outside linebacker for Adamle.

New on the offensive team are Sandusky; Joe Skibinski, a rookie from Purdue, for Abe Giron at left guard; and Emerson Cole for Marion Motley at fullback.

Motley, slower and suffering injuries last season, probably won't make the team this year, Brown said. He led the league ball in carrying during 1950.

Cole, up from the University of Toledo, was an understudy for Motley last year.

Brown said he had been unable to find a fullback as good as Motley was in his prime.

OTHER MEN BROWN expects to win berths on the team are Don Klosterman, a quarterback from Loyola at Los Angeles; Ray Renfro, a left half from North Texas State; Keever Jankovich, a defensive end from College of the Pacific; Ed Sharkey, a guard traded from Dallas, who is getting out of the marines; and Burl Toler, a line-backer from the University of San Francisco.

The Browns played before 780,167 spectators last season. They say

Boosters Seek Park Director

Grade School Club
Installs Officers

COLUMBIANA—Members of the Booster Club at their May meeting Wednesday evening decided to get a part-time athletic director for recreational activities at Firestone Park this summer. The job will probably be for two or three days a week. Persons interested are invited to contact W.B. Longshore, president of the club.

The Boosters will join with the Rotary Club in sending the safety patrols of Columbiana High School and Fairfield Centralized High School to Cleveland for a baseball game this summer. Representatives of both clubs will accompany the young people. Saturday, June 14, is the probable date.

NEW OFFICERS RECENTLY elected by the Grade School Mother Club were installed at the May meeting of the club in the high school auditorium Wednesday evening.

The club plans to modernize this summer the lighting in two of the three remaining rooms in the old part of the high school.

A musical program consisted of piano solos, duets and trios. Solos were by Sandra Anglemeyer, Bobby Cline, Susan Lindsay, Sandra Rhoads, Ann Rhoads, Mabel Baird, Esther Baird, Marjorie Horst, Donna Garrod, Sandra Kannal, Gretchen Cline, Irene Schaal and Darlene Brittain.

Piano duets, Ann and Sandra Rhoads, Mabel and Esther Baird, and Mrs. Robert Cline and daughter, Gretchen; piano trio, Darlene Brittain and Ann and Sandra Rhoads. Refreshments were served in the home economics room.

A SOCIAL MEETING AT the home of Mrs. Fred Detwiler, Wednesday evening, 224 S. Main St. concluded the Columbiana Music Study Club season. The social part of the evening was preceded by a short program.

Mrs. David Holloway sang two vocal numbers, "Song of the Robin" and "Strange Music," accompanied by Mrs. Virginia Felger. Mrs. Detwiler read stories of Frederick Chopin, and two vocal selections by Mrs. Charles Wurster were "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise" and "A Perfect Day," accompanied by Mrs. Paul McNab.

The program concluded with a paper on "John Phillip Sousa, the March King," by Miss Ruth Warwick; a paper on "The Boy Who Could Not Be Discouraged, Johann Sebastian Bach," by Mrs. Mary Griffin, and a solo by Mrs. A. A. Anderson, "My God and I," accompanied by Mrs. E. T. Coyle.

Mrs. L. L. Lodwick, Mrs. Griffin and Mrs. Coyle were the committee.

OPEN HOUSE WILL BE observed at the high school from 7 to 9 tonight when projects of students in the home economics and industrial arts departments of Columbiana schools, from the seventh to 12th grades inclusive, will be on display. The public is invited.

Officers of the Columbiana County American Legion Junior Baseball league will meet at the Legion home in Columbiana at 8 tonight when a definite decision will be reached as to whether the league shall have any more teams than the four now listed, East Liverpool, Salem, East Palestine and Columbiana. It is expected that the season will open Sunday, June 1, and that the schedule will be arranged at this meeting.

Democratic women of Columbiana and vicinity will meet in city hall at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Columbiana banks and the loan company will be open Saturday following the Memorial Day holiday Friday, May 30. In some places financial institutions will remain closed until Monday after the holiday.

The Columbiana and East Palestine American Legion Junior League teams will play at Firestone Park at 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

The Ohio flag made its first appearance in 1901 on the Ohio building of the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo.

HOT MUSIC—Dr. D. H. Follett, of London's Science Museum, really plays "hot" music. The organ-like instrument is a "pyrophone." Notes are produced by gas flames burning in glass tubes of various lengths. The tone of the instrument is said to be "celestially beautiful." It was invented by Frederick Kastner, a physicist, nearly 80 years ago.

Senate Probers To Conclude Investigation Of McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators hope to conclude public hearings today on a charge by Sen. Benton (D-Conn.) that Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) violated congressional ethics in accepting $10,000 for a housing article.

Benton has made that accusation, among others, in demanding that McCarthy be ousted from the Senate.

McCarthy received the $10,000 in 1948 from the now-defunct Lustron Corporation, which was in the prefabricated housing business and heavily indebted to the government's Reconstruction Finance Corporation. McCarthy says his acceptance of the money was entirely proper and that he performed a public service in writing the article.

Sen. Gillette (D-Iowa), chairman of a Senate Rules Subcommittee which is looking into Benton's charges, told reporters his group will decide later whether to hold hearings on other Benton charges—including an accusation that McCarthy committed perjury and fraud in pressing his Communist-in-government charges.

Two witnesses were called for today's session—Harold Denton, who served as a Lustron vice president, and Walter Royal of the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency.

The subcommittee spent several hours yesterday questioning Clark Wideman, a Columbus real estate broker, after Wideman had written to Gillette, saying:

"I am sickened by the attempts being made at this hearing to assassinate a senator's character and political career by innuendo and foul play."

The reference was to McCarthy, and Wideman—a friend of the senator—acknowledged under questioning that the letter and the copies he distributed to newsmen before taking the witness stand were typed in McCarthy's office.

He said, however, that he had no help from anyone in writing the letter.

Wideman also testified about a 1949 dice game in which he said McCarthy participated. He said that at one time McCarthy ran up a $2,400 "loss" but that this was "just horseplay with the dice with fictitious sums."

McCarthy, commenting on the letter and Wideman's testimony, told a reporter:

"As for the letter, I advised him to tone it down a little and not leave himself open to abuse by the subcommittee members. However, I am glad he wrote the letter."
